

TYPHOID FEVER IS TOO MUCH FOR HIM

Dr. Stewart, Health Commissioner, Asks for More Men in His Department.

GODMAN LOSES HIS APPEAL

License Assessor Who Beat His Wife Is No Longer in the City's Service—Are After Moran.

After some consideration last night, the city council authorized the employment of Dr. Frank H. Steele for two days to take charge of the typhoid situation on account of the inability of Dr. M. R. Stewart, the health commissioner, to cope with the epidemic. Dr. Steele will receive $15 a month, while Dr. Steele has been $150 a month and does practically nothing.

When the epidemic first broke out, Dr. Paul, who was detailed to handle the situation, unfortunately became ill and was confined at his home. Under Dr. Stewart's direction the typhoid conditions became alarming and some drastic measures were necessary. Dr. Steele, who had formerly been employed at the emergency hospital at the police station, was called by the city board of health to take the matter in charge. The epidemic has been practically stamped out, but Dr. Steele still feels that Dr. Steele ought to be employed to take care of the situation until all danger is passed. The councilmen were of the same opinion.

Samuel I. Godman, deputy license assessor, who is charged with assaulting his former wife, Mrs. Ida M. Godman, was officially discharged by the council when the members confirmed the action taken by City Auditor Rudolph A. Alf in removing him.

Frank Kimball, who was appointed in his place, was not confirmed by the council. The license committee has a proposition to make the license assessor a department of the city government and provide for the appointment by the mayor. Mr. Alf was given authority to employ Kimball in this capacity until the change was made.

McMillan & Sons, who conduct a slaughter house in Murray, were granted a city inspector for a period of 30 days by the council. In the meantime the ordinance will be amended charging the slaughter house companies with the side of the city for the inspection. After Oct. 1, 1909, no meat can be sold in Salt Lake City unless it is inspected, passed and stamped by the city inspector.

Twenty-two property owners protested last night against the delay of the city council in beginning work on sidewalk extension No. 134, which is in the northern part of the city. For some months the assessment has been levied and the principal is drawing interest, but nothing has been done to go ahead with the work. The property owners want the work laid before the winter weather begins.

Councilman Hall introduced a resolution asking the city engineer to submit a statement to the council as to when the time expires for the completion of the paving of east First South street. P. J. Moran, the official contractor, has failed so far to put in a half of block of asphalt in front of the Congregational church because the Utah product is asked for. Mr. Hall wants the work done immediately.

Chief of Police Samuel Barlow submitted the resignation of R. L. Boynton as patrolman and it was accepted. G. A. Patterson was appointed in his place and J. A. Egbert was appointed to fill another vacancy in the department.

The council sustained the veto of Mayor Brandford on the franchise given to the Oregon Short Line Railroad company to construct a track on Third West street. The objectionable matter was eliminated at the suggestion of the chief executive and passed again to be submitted to him for approval. The council adjourned until tonight, when the liquor license will be taken up, approved and passed.

The Siegel Concert—The advance sale for the Siegel concert at the First Congregational church next Monday evening, opens at the Consolidated Music company tomorrow morning. This will be Mr. Siegel's first concert of the subscription series. The subscribers will have the sole right to seat reservations tomorrow, the general public being obliged to wait one day later. Mr. Siegel is one of the greatest of the younger violinists, and his pianist, Francis Hendricks, also has a high reputation.

Manager Sonnenberg Resigns—Mr. Harry Sonnenberg, who has been representing Martin Beck as the local manager for the Orpheum for some time, has forwarded his resignation to take effect Oct. 9. It is understood that differences with the local stockholders of the Orpheum are at the bottom of the retirement.

Mr. Sonnenberg has not made his plans yet as to the future, but he contemplates remaining in Salt Lake. It is not yet known who his successor will be.

UNIVERSITY NEWS

A large turnout is expected at the reception of the seniors to all the under classesmen to be given Friday evening at the university assembly hall. It will take the form of a dance.

Ben Howells has been elected president of the Junior class, owing to the non-appearance this year of former president, Tom Brighton.

Preparatory to organizing a class, the freshmen of the university have elected a committee to draft a constitution and bylaws for the class. The committee consists of Albert Clark, Gilbert Williams, D. Stone, O. Romney and H. Karrik.

Dr. W. R. Tyndale, who will deliver a lecture each day to the medical students during the entire year, gave the first lecture yesterday afternoon, his subject being "An Introduction to Clinical Medicine."

The girls' gymnasium classes began active work yesterday afternoon under the direction of Miss Louise DeLaney.

The medical society, which consists this year of 45 members, will give a stag party at the Orpheum Saturday night.

The Barriesters' club of the University of Utah law school met in the supreme court room, Wednesday afternoon. It proved one of the most enthusiastic and successful gatherings ever held by the law students. The attendance is double what it was last year, and the representatives from Chicago and Michigan. The officers chosen at the meeting are as follows: President, L. Egerton Cluff; vice president and reporter, J. L. Loe; secretary-treasurer, L. L. Nettleton. All are junior law students.

High School Notes

With the disbanding of the cadet battalion the places of the older members have been filled by 250 recruits who assembled yesterday afternoon on the high school campus, where they were graded according to height by Commandant William C. Webb. The organization this year is the largest in the history of the school and consists of a band, trumpet corps and four 10-man companies.

In order to make the school paper more popular this year Editor Quayle announces prizes for the best story, and for personal jokes and cartoons. Exchange Editor Noll states that there will be over 150 high school papers on the shelves of the school, from which the school papers will be selected.

Prof. Harwood is busy collecting art work for the exhibit at the state fair. The work will consist of some color and oil paintings as well as charcoal and pencil drawings and clay modeling designs.

WARD ENTERTAINMENTS

Twenty-Seventh Ward—A farewell reception will be given Friday evening in the Twenty-seventh ward chapel, corner Fourth and P streets, in honor of Elder Charles E. Price, who leaves shortly on a mission to Great Britain. The program will commence at 8:15.

Voluntary contributions will be received at the door. Those taking part on the program are: Alta Monson, Margaret Allen, Edna Larsen, Lucy R. Cannon, Lucille Critchlow, Dorothy Covey, Myra Bywater, A. E. H. Caldwell, Hattie Combs, Irene Kelly, Edvige Erickson, Eva Dunyon, Melvin Peterson, and the choir.

NO GOLDEN SPIKE IS TO BE DRIVEN

Completion of Western Pacific to Be Marked by No Ostentation.

GAPS ARE GROWING SMALLER

Four Steel Gaps Busy Laying Four Miles of Rails a Day On Western End.

While the completion of the Western Pacific railroad from Salt Lake City to San Francisco is expected now within a short time, as far as laying the rails on the grade is concerned, there will perhaps be little or no demonstration made in celebration of that event.

S. V. Derrah, general freight and passenger agent of the eastern division of the Western Pacific, said this morning that President Jeffrey had not expressed any desire to have the driving of the last spike of the new transcontinental line made the occasion of a demonstration, his only expressed wish being that the road as rapidly as completed should be thrown open to traffic. The rails on the eastern end of the Western Pacific were laid into Winnemucca, Nev., last Saturday morning, making a continuous line for a distance of 25 miles west of Salt Lake now on the grade. The last stretch of road to Winnemucca, however, has yet to be ballasted, and station facilities at the end of the road are not yet ready to receive traffic between Winnemucca and Salt Lake.

During a lull in the interstate commerce hearing in the federal court at Denver, accompanied by J. C. Jeffrey, son of President E. T. Jeffrey, of the Denver & Rio Grande, attorney for the Missouri Pacific in the case, E. A. Boyd, assistant vice president and chief of traffic of the Gould system, Mr. McPherson, assistant to the general manager of the Missouri Pacific railroad and Attorney E. B. Polner of the Rock Island, made a tour over the completed portion of the Western Pacific road, as far west as Golconda, a distance of 351 miles from Salt Lake City, and back to the city. Mr. Boyd, who is a resident of Salt Lake, who conducted them over the line to Golconda. The gentlemen expressed themselves as much pleased with the physical condition of the new road and as enjoying the ride very much.

Mr. Derrah says there are four gaps of men laying steel on the grade at present. Each gap is able to put down a mile of rail every day, so that it will not take long to close up the few gaps yet remaining west of Winnemucca.

PERSONALS.

Conrad Gast, an old Salt Lake, who has quietly dropped in on Zion from his home in Berkeley, Cal., was calling this morning on some of his old friends among them Deputy U. S. Marshal Julian Riley. Mr. Gast reports business quiet on the coast. He was married in Salt Lake in 1884 and has not got over his love for the city. He would be willing to exchange his home in Berkeley for one in Salt Lake any day. Mr. Gast is here on business for a few days.

Guy A. Young of Colorado is visiting in this city with Mrs. Anna P. Young, en route home from the Seattle fair.

Chief Clerk Thomas Redmond of the local offices of the bureau of animal industry is on an extended vacation.

Chief Clerk J. J. Thomas of the state board of equalization returned last evening from St. Louis, Mo., where he went with George A. Baker, of the board in attendance on the third annual meeting of the International Tax conference.

General Manager S. J. Seal of the International Harvester company has returned from a Boston business trip.

WEEKLY MARKET LETTER.

(Special Correspondence.)

Kansas City Stock Yards, Sept. 27.—The liberal supply of $4,000 cattle arrived here last week, including 12,000 calves, and prices were lower in some cases. Prime corn fed steers held steady, but medium to good steers declined 10 to 15 cents, with 10 to 15 cents higher for the week, stockers and feeders steady. The run today is 30,000 head, market steady to a shade lower.

The feature today is the heavy supply from the Panhandle, New Mexico and Colorado, and the strong demand for grass cows, especially canners. All last week, canners closing 15 to 25 higher. Panhandle stockers and feeders sold at $2.50 to $4.25, beef steers $4.10 to $4.35, cows $2.90 to $3.50, and calves $3.00 to $3.50. Heavy supplies of Montana and Dakota range steers are going to the northwestern markets now, and as long as this run is liberal, killers will be more or less independent, although they are forced into activity here to a certain extent by the large demand for stock and feeding cattle. Missouri feeders paid up to $6.25 for choice fleshy feeders last week, and a good many feeders have gone out at $5 to $5.75, stockers up to $4.75.

Sheep runs have been larger lately, supply last week 50,000 head, and 18,000 here today. Sheep and yearlings have been steady during the last week, and feeding and stock grades are also steady, but killing lambs declined 25 to 50 cents last week. The market is steady to a shade lower.

Feeding lambs and yearlings $4.50 to $5.00, big string of Utah breeding ewes on different days last week at $4.70 to $4.85, old ewes $3.25. Prospects favor continued heavy runs for awhile, without much change in prices, now that the reasonable market for best lambs and mutton grades formerly in effect has been reduced to a more equitable basis.

WATERFALL DISCHARGED.

Case Discloses Partnership Difficulties And Defendant Is Dismissed.

William Waterfall was found not guilty today in Judge Bowman's court of the charge brought by William Stoker of having obtained money by false pretenses. While acting as manager in a private concern controlled by William Stoker, and handling the Stoker coal savor and smoke prevention device, Waterfall was alleged to have collected without authority $150. The testimony in the case revealed partnership difficulties, and at the conclusion of the hearing Judge Bowman discharged the defendant.

LATE LOCALS

First Entry Under New Act—The first entry of land in Juab county, under the enlarged homestead act of 1909, was made today by Melvin G. Harmer of Springfield, who secured 320 acres near Mona.

Runs Coal Land—Joe Barbaglio, an Italian of Helper, Utah, secured 40 acres of coal land on the Big Lost Creek, carbon county today, paying therefore $2,000 in cash.

Six Cases of Dirty Milk—The state chemist has just completed the analysis of 15 samples of milk freshly taken from the wagon cans at random. They were all up to the standard in the matter of butter fat, but half a dozen of them were dirty. The matter has been referred to the food inspector.

MORAN'S PLANT IS DESTROYED

Fire From Spontaneous Combustion Wipes Out Buildings.

HE WILL REBUILD AT ONCE

Has Ordered Machinery By Wire and Will Suspend for Two Weeks.

Fire arising from spontaneous combustion completely destroyed the plant of P. J. Moran at the mouth of City Creek canyon this afternoon and for some time threatened the waterworks station nearby. At the hour of going to press, the firemen and employees both of the city and Moran had saved the waterworks and it seemed at that time that the fire was well in hand.

Mr. Moran, who owns the scene a few minutes after the fire was reported and estimates his loss at $10,000.

The fire started at 1:45 and soon ate its way through the plant. Much machinery is destroyed in addition to the buildings and quantities of stores. The plant was used by Moran's contracting firm for mixing concrete for street paving and also preparing asphalt for the same use. The loss is total.

Included in the material stored at the plant were many barrels of pitch, tar and asphalt and a great quantity of clay and sand, gravel and other paving material, tools and the machinery required in the plant.

Owing to the nature of the stores there, the fire burned fiercely and it was beyond the power of the firemen to prevent its spread. Their principal efforts were directed to confining the flames to the plant and preventing them reaching the waterworks across the road, a distance of only a few rods.

Forty men employed by Moran, many from the waterworks and all of the men from the central fire station and also from No. 2 with the city and Assistant Chief Fitzgerald fought the flames from the time the alarm was sounded and were still engaged in their task at 10 o'clock.

Moran estimates his loss at $10,000, and has already wired east for new machinery for a modern and complete plant to replace the one burned this afternoon. He says that spontaneous combustion was caused by the contact of oil and the Utah asphalt. The plant will be suspended for about two weeks.

CLOSE OF SUCCESSFUL FAIR AT RAYMOND

(Special Correspondence.)

RAYMOND, Alberta, Canada, Sept. 22.—The annual fair has just closed and the display in grain, grasses, vegetables and stock was very good. In grain the exhibit of winter wheat, while good, was not as extensive as in former years, owing to a heavy fall in the price of the particular product last spring, but samples shown were of excellent quality.

Vegetables were well represented, and watermelons of good size and excellent flavor. In cattle the showing was somewhat short, as some of the heaviest cattle owners do not exhibit, but the horses were far ahead of anything in former years. Roy Knight's string of Suffolk Punches, headed by a picture of the horse fair and the awarding judge, commended in the highest terms the enterprise and the quality of the horses.

The educational exhibit by the public schools was very creditable, some of the work showing talent of exceptional order.

To the exhibitor, which bore fair to be very bad, changed sufficiently to be eligible to the agency class, and taken care of by the public school work, the local history as being up to the average.

The September storm, which is regarded as a nature, has so far been chiefly bluster. The weather in the main is made up of these delightful cool sunshiny days, which give the country a cold enough to make a good fire both enjoyable and necessary.

FUNERAL AT LEVAN OF LITTLE ROBT. FRANCOM

(Special Correspondence.)

LEVAN, Juab Co., Sept. 26.—Funeral services were held today at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. George Francom over the remains of their baby boy, Robert D., who was accidentally drowned to death last Friday, Sept. 24. The speakers at the funeral were Elder J. M. Christensen, Bishops N. P. Rasmussen and J. E. Taylor. The family is suffering with grief.

The district schools commenced last Monday, Sept. 20, with the following corps of teachers: J. M. Christensen, Principal; Mr. D. W. Hays, Miss Ethel Cushing, Miss Pearl Allen and Miss Emily Christensen. The trustees are removing the hot air furnace and replacing it with a steam heater.

The L. D. S. meetinghouse is nearly completed and the people expect to have it dedicated some time the latter part of October.

The crops are nearly all gathered and the harvest has been good. About 75,000 bushels of wheat and 20,000 bushels of oats have been raised this year. The alfalfa crop is better than in any year for years, much of it is being baled and shipped.
